FARMVILLE.

Interest deepens with us as to railroad rumors when it is given out that a Philadelphia syndicate has gotten possession of the Tide water and Tidewater & Western, and the prophecy that most concerns us is that the latter will be converted into a broad gauge and so furnish the Tidewater an entrance into Richmond. Any change in the condition of the Tidewater & Western as at present existing would be to our betterment, as it now simply takes from us and brings back nothing, or but little in return. The strange part about this rumor, however, is that the Standard Oil should be willing to sell out the Tidewater venture at all. Millionaire movements are often mysterious.

An insurance agent, who struck Farmville recently, says he found a local agent on each corner and without uncorking his grip moved on. And it is true that their "name is legin" here, and some of the most enterprising and progressive young men of the town are engaged in the business who seem to be doing well. There is no branch of human enterprise of more general and essential importance. I am told that the Astors, of New York, are rich enough to carry their own insurance, but there are few Astors in the world. The average business man is unwise who doesn't carry all the insurance, life and fire, that he can.

If it was as dangerous to kiss babies as it is to kiss the kissing bug, our politicians would be in extremis. In most of the Presidential post-offices that I happen to know the post-master is a figure-head, and a non-worker, but with us he is as busy as any employer in the office and always on duty.

Dr. White has the largest garden in town and Mrs. White enjoys walking over it in the early morning hour. She complains, herself, that in these days of scarcity of labor more than two blades of grass are to be found in it where only one was found in the good old days "more de wah." Still it is a productive garden spot and a genuine comfort and luxury.

Prof Jones, of the Normal faculty, who is in the charge of the Summer Normal, is greatly pleased at the attendance and the enthusiasm of teachers and scholars, and is already projecting greater things for next summer. "When a man is in earnest and knows what he is about, his work is half done." This gentleman knows what he is about and is in dead earnest.

I was in one of our livery stables the other day at feeding time and was impressed with the manner of feeding, and thought that our farmers could learn a useful lesson from them. They give a horse enough to eat and no more. Their troughs are not allowed to be crowded with food. The first thing a farmer does when he enters his stall in the morning is to clean out the troughs. In the livery stable the horses do that. This is the better and more economical way.

What's wrong with the vagrant law that it isn't reformed? A friend told me that he was in a Virginia town recently, and though the population was only 3,500 as many as 50 real vagrants were counted in a walk of a few squares. All laws should be repealed that are not enforced, and the law of vagrancy is not the only one.

In the death of Mrs. W. T. Clark home has lost a model wife and mother, the community a lady of gentle graces and modest worth and the church a consistent and useful member. She leaves a husband and two small children in the new home on earth, and a mother, brother and sister in the old.

The Citizens Bank has opened its doors and is already recognized as a factor in our business circles. Banks are more and more business necessities. We can't get on without them and just how many are necessary for Farmville I don't pretend to know. A few years ago the Planters occupied the entire field, and the authorities no doubt thought that there was no need for another, but the First National came and made a splendid record from the beginning and to-day is one of the strong financial institutions of the State. There is room as I believe for the Citizens and I predict for it a good degree of success. Capt. E. Scott Martin, the president, though a young man has already won an enviable reputation as a business man. Mr. Serpell, the vice-president, though but recently come to us, has been exhibiting marvellous enterprise since being with us, while Mr. F. W. Hubbard, the cashier, is a Farmville transcript of affairs who will measure well up to the duties of his new and responsible position.

Hampden-Sidney will soon have railroad connections, as we now hope and believe, and in the meantime an automobile will be on the road between the two places.

The Council, at its last meeting, considered the question of a drinking fountain on our Main Street for man and beast, and it will no doubt be soon in operation. To the old town will be selling whiskey at one place on her Main Street and giving away water at another. But the two articles will not be dispensed at the same time unless there is watered liquor on the market just as there is watered stock.

I believe that Sunday is as well observed in Farmville as in most towns of like size, though we do have hot Sunday dinners and the Sunday papers are largely read.

Dr. Richard M. Smith, who announced that he would preach each Sunday afternoon at our Opera House during the summer, has withdrawn the notice. With Sunday School and two services in their respective churches, our church going people are satisfied not to go to another The fact is there is such a thing as spiritual dissipation. One of our hymns gives this good advice, "Take time to be holy," that means private study and meditation as well as public worship.

What a tribute to the Christian religion, the secular papers are paying week by week. The Sunday School lesson with comments appears in them as regularly as in the religious papers, and a majority of the big dailies have a Sunday sermon in the editorial columns of the Sunday issue. There is a soul want in man that material things wont satisfy. "There is an infinite in him which, with all his cunning, he cannot bury under the finite.

Mrs. Moore and children, of Tennessee, are visiting her mother, Mrs. E. M. Venable.

It is rumored that Mr. W. P. Richardson and family may move to Baltimore. I suppose for well nigh a century some member of the family has been engaged in active business in Farmville.

Old "Wash" horse which was driven by the late Governor McKinney, is still doing good service and looks "fat and fine." He must be bordering on to 30.

Take the Postmaster's Word for it.

Mr. F. M. Hamilton, postmaster at Cherryvale, Ind., keeps also a stock of general merchandise and patent medicines. He says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is standing here in its line. It never fails to give satisfaction and we could hardly afford to be without it."

While scientists are discussing the important question "What shall we eat?" the majority of us will continue stowing away just what the cook sees fit to provide.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost every body who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney trouble, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.
